Published January 11, 2023

As part of The Ohio State University's commitment to promoting a safe and healthy campus environment, members of the university community have the right to be free from all forms of hazing, which impede the realization of the university's vision of being a 21st-century public, land grant, research, urban, and community-engaged institution. The university does not tolerate hazing in any form and all members of the university community must conduct themselves in a manner that supports an environment free from hazing.

In compliance with Collin's Law, the following report identifies all hazing violations under the Code of Student Conduct from October 7, 2016, through the publication date.

Personal identifying information for individual students, including organization names, has been removed in accordance with the Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act of 1974.

Collin's Law requires universities to report hazing violations for the last five years no later than January 15, 2023. However, Ohio State already publicly posts social fraternity and sorority conduct history and information about registered student organizations whose registration status has been revoked. You can find that information here or by copying the following URL into your browser:

More information about reporting hazing, anti-hazing training and other prevention, reporting and supportive resources available to students, staff and faculty are found on the university's hazing prevention website here or by copying the following URL into your browser: <https://stophazing.osu.edu/>

General Description	Resolution Date	Violations and Sanctions
It was reported that, during the autumn 2021 semester, the Alpha chapter of Sigma Alpha encouraged/required new members to stay at their Bigs' houses during Inspiration Week where their phones were taken and they could not be on social media. New members were not allowed to go anywhere without an active member being present with them. The Monday night of Inspiration Week, new members were required to stand in front of active members to recite information while receiving constructive feedback. New members became upset during this event and described this experience as humiliating, overwhelming or stressful. The Tuesday night of Inspiration Week, which involved the agricultural fraternities, new members were told to walk around a house and be in rooms with their eyes closed or backs to individuals in the rooms. New members had to guess who was present in the room from clues given and/or asking yes or no questions. When new members guessed incorrectly, multiple active members made demeaning or rude comments.	2022-04-06	Violations 3335-23-04 (L) Hazing - In violation Sanctions Organization Outcome - Disciplinary Probation and Deferred Revocation Additional Sanctions
